

...in tribute to Dire Straits

I can whole heartily recommend Jade for any performance position. Her performance is always first class. Her tone and interpretation of the music is just breath taking and she's incredibly easy to deal with when organising her involvement in an event or show. She's incredibly organised and always 100% prepared.

I've booked many musicians who present themselves as 'professional' to a booking client - only to be largely disappointed by most of them. Whether it's their performance, readiness or their communication, very few I would consider to be true professionals.

Jade is the perfect musical colleague and I would be chasing her for a resident position in any show I manage before all others.

Book Jade - you will *not* be disappointed.
